NORFOLK, VA., July 7.—H. E. Boykin and R. D. Daugherty, of Boykin & Co., indicted yesterday with Julian Price, of Greensboro, N. C., an alleged third partner, and Price & Co., Inc., of Baltimore, for alleged violation of the Virginia anti-bucket-shop laws, to-day secured a continuance of their trials until July 14. Both were reballed and at once reopened their offices.

Commonwealth's Attorney Tilton dramatically threatened to raid Boykin & Co., if they attempted to resume business. Counsel for the defense gave notice of an injunction application and threatened the Commonwealth's Attorney with contempt proceedings, if he directed a raid in the face of this notification. Mr. Tilton said he would do nothing pending the injunction application.

that he has represented the county for so many years, will add to his strength.

For the first time in the recollection of any one in Chesterfield county or Manchester, early yesterday morning seventeen fox hounds ran to earth John Hudson (colored), wanted on a warrant charging him with waylaying and attempting to assault Mary Turner (colored).

Officer Flynn, of the county force, was at work on the case, and he put the dogs on the trail of the negro. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the dogs had surrounded the negro, and when the officer arrived he was completely at bay and was at the mercy of the hounds. He was taken to the Manchester jail, where he is now locked up awaiting trial before a Chesterfield magistrate. The negro received no injury whatever. This is the first case of the kind known to the police of this section, where fox hounds have assisted in the capture of a fugitive. Hudson was captured near Beaufort Springs.

No Explosion Nor Any Trouble.

John Schopp, better known as "Jack," last night stated to a representative of this paper that neither he nor his family were in any danger during their trip down the river on last Monday. Mr. Schopp said that he and his family, together with two friends, went down the river to spend the day. They later decided to remain over all night and to return home on Tuesday morning. Mr. Schopp said that on Tuesday morning they found that the weather was so bad that they would not venture home on account of the fact that they had their little children with them. Schopp stated that they could have returned at any time.

He further stated that the story of the explosion of a gasoline tank was entirely erroneous. The entire party arrived here Tuesday, and every one was minus any injury and the boat was thoroughly intact.

Death of Mrs. Adeline Davis.

Mrs. Adeline Davis died at the residence of her son, Elijah Davis, 103 East Fourth to make a living for his wife and two children, K. A. Landis, forty-five years old, cut his throat at his home in East End early this morning, and is now hospital in a critical condition. Landis was found in an unconscious condition, covered with his own blood, and a razor beside him, about an hour after he had attempted to kill himself.

His wife is severely, and the doctors entertain little hope for his recovery.
Neighbors say that the man wanted to kill himself so his wife could collect an insurance policy.

fourteenth annual convention at Old Point to-day and will remain in session until Friday night. The attendance is not large, but many of the most brilliant lawyers in Maryland are present. President William C. Devenmon, of Cumberland, welcomed the visitors, after which he read his annual report. The report of the committee on laws, presented by Judge Conway W. Sams, recommended that the Fourth Federal Judicial Circuit, composed of the two Virginias, Maryland, North and South Carolina, be given another Judge, making three jurists instead of two to conduct the business of the circuit.

Addresses were made at the after-
